

FREE PUBLIC LECTURE

Presented by the
York County Historical Committee

“Frederick Douglass Live”

with Guest Speaker

Nathan M. Richardson

Poet and Author

Sunday, February 17th, 3:00 pm
York Hall
301 Main Street – Yorktown, VA

In honor of Black History Month, performance poet and Douglass historian Nathan Richardson will bring history to life by portraying the great writer, orator and abolitionist Frederick Douglass. The highly-acclaimed Frederick Douglass Speaking Tour has enthralled audiences in numerous venues across the country. Douglass speaks of his life as a slave, his escape to freedom and rise to leadership in the abolitionist movement. Mr. Richardson’s published works will be available for signing and sale following the lecture.